1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 6-30-06 has been entered.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hsu et al. or Bellmann et al.'597. Bellmann et al. (col. 8, lines 7-35 ; col. 9, lines 26-43, col. 14, lines 27-48) and Hsu et al. (col. 8, lines 13-40; col. 14, lines 29-50; the claims) both disclose transfer donors with transfer layers containing dendrimers, including light emitting dendrimers as disclosed in WO 99/ 21935 incorporated by reference into Hsu et al. and Bellman et al. and set forth in the claims of Hsu et al., and other non dendrimer materials including electrically active materials, light emitters, organic materials and hole or electron transport materials. The declaration under 37 CFR 1.131 does not overcome the effective filing dates of Hsu et al. or Bellmann et al. Also, applicant's specification does not disclose the nondendrimer materials used in the declaration.

The applied references have a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing dates of the references, they constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in a reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131. It is noted that Hsu et al. claims using transfer layers with light emitting dendrimers and other materials.

3. Claims 1-17 are rejected under the first and second paragraphs of 35 USC 112 as failing to comply with the written description requirement and as being indefinite. The intended meaning of the term "host material " as compared to " material" is indefinite. The term "host" material is not defined in the specification. The only support in the specification for transfer layers containing light emitting dendrimers and other materials is on page 12, lines 1-3. The disclosure on page 12, line 4-page 13, line 29, is directed to an optional second transfer layer. There is no written description in the specification of the light emitting dendrimers being contained within or hosted by another material in the first transfer layer which is a required layer of the disclosed transfer donors of the specification. The written description in the specification is also limited to first transfer layers where the other material (nondendrimer) is not light emitting.
